

National Twister

2007

a game, an installation

a genuinely good reason to get close to one another

Rules of the Game

The world spins, then the referee calls out the body part and the color that the arrow points to. All players, at the same time, must then try to follow the referee's directions, or their own instinct.

Everyone has the right to play.

All players are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood. Everyone has the right to recognition everywhere as a player and are entitled without any discrimination to equal protection of the Rules of the Game. Everyone is entitled in full equality to a fair play, and the independent and impartial tribunal shall guard their rights.

The will of the people shall be the basis of the referee of the Game; this will shall be expressed in periodic and genuine elections which shall be by universal and equal suffrage and shall be held by secret vote or by equivalent free voting procedures.

Everyone has the right to take part in the Game, directly or through freely chosen representatives. Men and women of any age, without any limitation due to race, nationality or religion, have the right to play. The Game shall be entered into only with the free and full consent of the intending spouses. The group, that players form, is the natural and fundamental group unit of society.

Everyone has the right to freedom of movement within the borders of each color-field. Everyone has the right to leave any color, including his own, and to return to his color, when it is being called by the referee. Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression: this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

Everyone has the right to form and to join trade unions for the protection of his interests.

Everyone has the right to rest and leisure, including reasonable limitation of working hours and periodic holidays with pay and play.

When several players are taking part in the Game, a real human-knot is likely to form.

Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits.

Strategy: Try moving toward an opponent's portion of the floor, forcing the player to go over or under you

Being Eliminated

No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. No one shall be subjected to arbitrary arrest, detention or exile. Anyone wearing too little clothing will not be penalized.

If you feel that a new position is impossible, or will cause you to fall, you may eliminate yourself

How to Win

Last man standing is standing alone

Naked Twister

Same rules, but no clothes

Twisted Game

Same world, but no rules

Nothing in these Rules of the Game may be interpreted as implying for any State, group or person, any right to engage in any activity or to perform any act aimed at the destruction of any of the rights and freedoms set forth herein.